

BUILDING THE RELATIONSHIP WALL

A DOUBLE-SIDED WALL IS BUILT ONE BRICK AT A TIME

- Everytime I sin against another person, I put a brick up on my side of the wall.
- Everytime someone sins against me, he puts a brick up on his side of the wall.
- Over time this double-side wall becomes too high, too wide and too thick to penetrate.
- I no longer know who is on the other side of the wall and I really don't care.

Over time bitterness and resentment create one solid wall
